GRACE HOPES TO FLY FROM HAWAII SUNDAY

HEAT TOO INTENSE TO FLY TODAY

GRACE ATTEMPTED START TODAY AND PUNCTURED TIRE
HELD SHIP TO NARROW RUNWAY IN MASTERFUL FASHION

Barking Sands, Island of Kauai, T. H., July 2.—(UP)—The projected trans-Pacific flight of Richard Grace today was postponed until daybreak Sunday.

The heat had become so intense since a tire of Grace's monoplane was punctured in an earlier attempt take-off that the aviator and his advisers deemed a start inadvisable.

The puncture occurred when the plane was five-eighths of a mile along the ground for its take-off. Grace held the ship to the narrow runway in a masterful fashion and outside of the punctured tire, no damage was done.

Before the ship could be wheeled back to position, the tire changed and the plane reconditioned for a second take-off, the tropic day was on and the great heat had lightened the air, making it dangerous to attempt to take off with the heavily loaded plane.

Deeply disappointed, Grace submitted to the decision of his advisers to await another day.

Barking Sands, Island of Kauai, T. H., July 2.—Richard Grace, southern California stunt flier, who has been waiting favorable weather for a week, appeared on the field here before daybreak and began to make preparations for his take-off on an intended non-stop trans-Pacific trip.

"I went to bed early last night but couldn't sleep," Grace told the United Press. "I certainly hope there will be no delay today."

Three mechanics had worked on the plane all night. It was fuelled and rolled to the opposite end of the runway, preparatory to the take-off.

A life raft was placed on the rear of the plane where it will be accessible in case of accident. Eight quart canteens of water and 15 pounds of chocolate were lashed to the raft as emergency rations.

Grace ate a light breakfast. He usually eats none.

A tin of milk was included as emergency ration for Grace's mascot puppy.

Navy May Have Flight Around World at the Equator

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—A navy flight around the earth at the equator has been recommended to Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, who is considering its feasibility.

Such a flight would require several hops and no details were made public today by Wilbur in announcing that the suggestion had been made. He did not reveal whether the suggestion came from within the navy or from outsiders interested in aviation.

The secretary considers such a flight more practical and of greater value to aviation than the proposed South Polar flight of Commander Richard E. Byrd, who may be approached to undertake a round the world flight.

Byrd plans to begin his South Polar exploration in September, according to J. Lansing Callan, president of Airships, Inc., of Hammondsport, Ky., who supplied the rubber boat in which Byrd and his three companions landed yesterday in France.

CHAMBERLIN TO FLY TO LONDON IN HIS PLANE

Paris, July 2.—(UP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin, fellow guest with Commander Byrd at the Interallied club luncheon today, said he would fly his trans-Atlantic plane to London Wednesday.

After flying about England, he added, he intended to have the plane dismantled for shipment on the Leviathan, on which he and Charles A. Levine planned to sail home.

Chamberlin said he did not intend to put the Columbia in a museum, but would fly it as long as he could.

A Frenchman at the club asked him how it felt to be in the air.

"You think what a fool you are to be so far from home," Chamberlin replied.

Administration Tax Reduction Program Planned

BYRD'S NEXT FLIGHT ACROSS SOUTH POLE

Paris, July 2.—(UP)—Commander Richard Byrd's next great aerial adventure will be his flight across the South Pole, starting from the ice fields off southern New Zealand.

Byrd announced definitely today he had decided on the South Polar trip and was making his plans for the voyage.

Lieut. Noville and Bert Balchen will accompany Byrd, the latter announced.

"The date of the flight," he said, "depends on circumstances which we cannot yet foresee. We probably will take two machines, one with three motors, the other with one. Terrible winds are constant in the Polar regions, necessitating an unusual type of machine."

COL. LINDBERGH ON MISSION TO CANADA

SAILS AWAY FROM MT. CLEMENS WITH 12 ARMY PLANES

TO DELIVER MESSAGE OF AMITY TO OTTAWA ON OCCASION OF CELEBRATION

Ottawa, Ont., July 2.—Lieut. Thad Johnson, piloting an army airplane from Selfridge Field, Michigan, as part of the escort to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, crashed at the air field here today and was killed.

He died on the way to the Ottawa general hospital.

Lindbergh had started to leave the field when Johnson crashed. He returned to the fallen plane, spoke regretfully of the accident, but said plans for the tour would be carried out as originally planned.

Johnson jumped from the plane, but his parachute failed to work and he hit the ground in sight of 25,000 spectators. He was taken from the field in an ambulance. All the other planes landed safely.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., July 2.—(UP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh sailed away today from Selfridge Field with an escort of honor on a mission of friendship to Canada.

Accompanied by 12 army planes, Lindbergh left at 8:30 A. M. E. S. T. in his Spirit of St. Louis for Ottawa, Ont., to deliver a message of amity from President Coolidge to the Canadian people on the occasion of their celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the Dominion.

Lindbergh flew here yesterday from St. Louis. He went swimming in Lake St. Clair, diving and splashing joyously. He permitted Major Thomas G. Lanphier, commandant of Selfridge Field, to take his plane into the air. Then he went strolling himself, at the insistence of the major's young son, Junior. Last night he met Henry Ford.

Major Lanphier invited Mr. and Mrs. Ford, and Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, the flier's mother, to dinner.

JOE POWERS SITS CALMLY ON HIS FLAGPOLE ROOST

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—Joe Powers knows now what it means to sit calmly through adversities.

He is attempting to establish a new long-distance-sustained sitting record on a little swing attached to the top of a flagpole—675 feet up from Chicago's loop. Yesterday there was an electrical storm.

"My phone is gone. It looks like an advance celebration of the Fourth of July up here. My rain coat is caught in one of the ropes. I am getting wet," he wrote down to friends.

But Joe sat it out and this morning—although somewhat bedraggled—he was more determined than ever to continue at his record breaking sit.

He hopes to remain aloft at least two weeks, thus defeating the record made by "Shipwreck" Kelly at Newark, N. J. "If there are others in the race, then I'll outsit them too," he wrote to friends on the roof underneath his flagpole.

Powers started his sit at 3 p. m. Wednesday.

More Marines to New Trouble Center in China, Hankow Pirates Hold an American for Ransom

MOBILIZATION AT MARINE CORPS BASE, SAN DIEGO

CONTEMPLATE, ALSO, SENDING ADDITIONAL AIR FORCES TO CHINA

CAPTAIN FISCHER, MASTER OF VESSEL, SEIZED BY PIRATES

San Diego, Ca., July 2.—(UP)—Two hundred marines were being mobilized at the Marine corps base here today for immediate transportation to the trouble zone in China.

The first contingent of 100 men will leave San Diego Monday for Los Angeles where they will board a liner for Shanghai the same day. The second contingent will leave for the Orient July 18.

It was learned unofficially today that sending of additional air forces to China is being contemplated. Three squadrons of seven planes each now are on duty in the far east.

Washington, July 2.—The 200 marines sailing soon from the west coast to Shanghai, China, will replace about the same number who leave Shanghai July 6 on the transport Chaumont and are due in San Francisco August 3, marine corps headquarters explained today.

The returning troops include "short timers" and medical cases. No additional forces will be sent to China, it was said.

Washington, July 2.—On demand of the American consul at Hankow, Chinese authorities have promised to send troops to rescue Capt. Fisher, an American, held for $20,000 ransom by Chinese pirates, the state department announced.

Consul Frank P. Lockhart reported that Fisher, master of the Chi Chuen of the American Yangtze Rapids Co., was seized together with a Chinese agent of the company. Another Chinese agent of the company was previously seized and held for $10,000 ransom.

The Chi Chuen was looted, the crew deserting, and another vessel of the company going to its relief was fired upon en route.

American naval authorities have given warning they can provide no assistance on the river above Ichang. Lockhart also reported that fuel supplies allotted to the Iping, another company vessel, had been commandeered by Chinese troops.

WARNING GIVEN AGAINST LOCKJAW

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—The United States public health service today published warnings to young and old against lockjaw resulting from Fourth of July celebrations. They are:

- 1—Every wound should receive prompt and thorough treatment.
- 2—Wounds should be cleansed thoroughly.
- 3—A doctor should be consulted immediately.
- 4—Antitoxin should be administered if necessary.
- 5—Gunshot wounds and those produced by blank cartridges should receive prophylactic treatment with antitoxin.
- 6—Don't take chances.

COOLING BREEZES SWEEP OVER MIDDLE WEST

Chicago, July 2.—(UP)—Cooling breezes swept over the middle west today bringing an end to the heat wave which has resulted in many deaths and acute suffering.

More than one inch of rain fell here last night forcing the temperature down from around 96 degrees to the lower eighties. Although the beaches were crowded again, there was not the suffering as in the two previous nights.

The heat wave has resulted in 42 deaths in the Chicago area in the past 48 hours.

DENVER POLICE SEEK LOVE CRAZED SLAYER

Denver, Colo., July 2.—(UP)—With a pretty young woman in a serious condition from gun shot wounds and her common law husband dead, police today sought a man they described as a "love crazed slayer."

Mrs. Edna Ferguson, 24, was in a hospital with a bullet in her spine. John McDonald, 28, was dead. Both were shot last night in their apartment here.

The slayer crashed through the door, opened fire, and then made his escape in a commandeered automobile.

BYRD AND HIS CREW ARRIVE AT PARIS TODAY

TRIUMPHANTLY ACCLAIMED BY LARGE CROWDS OF PARISIANS

AMERICANS PLACE WREATH AT TOMB OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER

By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, July 2.—Commander Richard E. Byrd and his crew of three triumphantly arrived at their real destination today, acclaimed by crowds did not hold against them the fact that they arrived by train.

An enthusiastic crowd, massed behind French and American official reception committees, was waiting at the Gare St. Lazaire when the train that had brought them from Caen steamed in at 12:20 P. M.

Commander Byrd, accompanied by officials and followed by crowds, went immediately to the tomb of the unknown soldier, to place a wreath there on behalf of himself and his companions.

News that Commander Byrd and his companions, Lieutenant George Noville, Bert Acosta and Bert Balchen, were expected at noon became known to Paris generally only at the last moment.

But before the train pulled into the station 20 minutes late and the aviators had time to leave the station, the streets for a dozen blocks around had become almost impassable.

Traffic was suspended. The scene, with a greatly contrasting setting, became in miniature that of Lindbergh's arrival at Le Bourget.

Crowds mobbed the automobiles. Police were unable for 15 minutes to force a passage for them.

After a few minutes of refuge in their apartments, the aviators were forced by the mad cheers of the crowds to appear on the balcony. Herbert Adams Gibbons, Rodman Wanamaker's personal representative, waving French and American flags.

A plan to take the fliers to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier direct from the station was abandoned because of the tremendous crowd.

Lieutenant Noville presented Acting Ambassador Sheldon Whitehouse with a letter of introduction.

Commander William S. Bainbridge, U. S. naval reserve, a distinguished surgeon who is looking after the health of the aviators, announced that Byrd and Acosta still were suffering from shock.

They were to be X-rayed this afternoon.

Byrd, it was announced, had a number of cuts on his chest.

All three still were tired. Only Balchen, who brought down the plane successfully after its flight—was showing no effects of his ordeal.

It was reported that Bainbridge was nursing the fliers in preparation for a South Pole flight, whose details had been kept secret.

Thousands of automobiles had become immovably massed between the station and the hotel during the aviators' stay.

BARRAGE OF WORDS HURLED BY CHAPLINS

THE ARGUMENT CONTINUES BETWEEN COMEDIAN AND WIFE

MRS. CHAPLIN FILES 61 TYPEWRITTEN PAGES IN HER ANSWER

Los Angeles, July 2.—(UP)—The barrage of words hurled back and forth between Charles Chaplin, film comedian, and his estranged wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, continued with unabated vigor today.

With thousands of words of accusations on each side already in court files, 61 closely typewritten pages consisting of Mrs. Chaplin's answer to her husband's cross complaint for divorce, were before superior court today.

Mrs. Chaplin was a devoted young wife, she declared in her answer. Chaplin, she said, was a cold, cruel husband.

In Chaplin's cross bill filed a few days previously, he charged Mrs. Chaplin was a woman of the world while he was a home loving, hard working actor, anxious to return to his wife each evening after work.

None of Chaplin's complaints about her, however, were true, Mrs. Chaplin replied. She denied in much detail that she had ever been friendly with other men "in the manner intimated by her husband."

Chaplin, she said, merely was inordinately jealous.

She charged that once Chaplin had accused her of having improper relations with one member of a dinner party consisting of a woman, the woman's son and the son's fiancée. Chaplin, according to his wife, had told her he had watched the party through a window.

Neither did she drink excessively, as charged in the comedian's cross bill, Mrs. Chaplin continued. In fact, she said, she drank intoxicants to a "much greater extent than she."

Moreover, Mrs. Chaplin never was extravagant, she declared. She even made much of her clothing, she said and once made a $2.50 hat for her "Sunday best" for a considerable period of time.

A $1,900 diamond studded wrist watch was the only expensive gift Chaplin ever gave her, Mrs. Chaplin said. And then he spoiled the effect, she said, when he told her he bought it only that the public would believe relations between them were amicable.

She charged that as soon as she had filed suit for divorce, Chaplin had attempted to find persons who would be willing to testify against her character. He had approached Hawaiian beach boys and others on a steamship in which she had made a trip to Honolulu for such evidence, she declared.

Mrs. Chaplin loved her husband with "the romantic devotion of a 16-year-old school girl for her first and only sweetheart," she said. Never was she in company with other men for improper reasons, she concluded.

D. C. Stephenson, Former Klan Head, Emerges from Seclusion

Michigan City, Ind., July 2.—(UP)—The trustees and officers of the Indiana state prison who have been accused of keeping D. C. Stephenson in a seclusion unapproached in the history of state penal institutions had removed virtually every restriction today.

Newspaper men have been permitted to interview Stephenson privately, with officers out of hearing.

Prosecutor William H. Remy of Marion county and others who wish, have been told that Stephenson will be released into their custody at any time for a grand jury investigation or similar purpose. These developments followed Stephenson's announcement that he was "ready to talk."

But although he was assured of an audience in every newspaper in the state, the former leader of the Ku Klux Klan failed to take advantage of his first privilege.

CLAIMS AL SMITH CAN NEVER CARRY THE SOUTHLAND

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Gov. Al Smith of New York could never carry the south as a presidential candidate because "the Protestants of America are determined to keep Popery out of the White House," Sen. Thomas Heelin, democrat, Alabama, said in a two-hour speech last night in Queens.

The audience of 3,000 men, guests of the United Protest alliance of Queens, hissed Smith's name whenever it was mentioned.

The Alabamian said he didn't know where the 1928 democratic convention would be held, but he knew it would not be in New York.

"We never will have a Catholic president," Heelin continued. "Nevertheless, I am afraid of Smith and the Roman Catholic political machine."

PRES. COOLIDGE TO GIVE HIS BIRTHDAY PARTY

JOINT CELEBRATION OF HIS OWN AND NATION'S NATAL DAY

ALL RAPID CITY INTERESTED IN THE EXTENSIVE FESTIVITIES

Rapid City, S. D., July 2.—(UP)—President Coolidge is going to give a birthday party on the lawn of the summer White House next Monday—a joint celebration of his own 55th birthday and the birthday of American independence.

Newspapermen and photographers, stationed at the summer White House, were formally invited by Mr. Coolidge today to attend his party and to hear a cowboy band. Hundreds of citizens from the surrounding country are expected here.

Mounted Boy Scout troops from Custer will ride over to congratulate Mr. Coolidge, headed by C. H. Locke, Scout master. Locke will present the president with a horse, saddle, bridle, chaps, spurs and boots.

MORE HUMAN EAGLES PERCHING ON FLAGPOLES

Omaha, July 2.—(UP)—In training, he said, to beat the world's record established in New Jersey by A. F. "Shipwreck" Kelly, Rex Henton, 26, a steeplejack, had remained 24 hours atop a flagpole on a downtown theater at noon today.

Henton will end his lofty vigil at 8 p. m. tonight and plans a series of similar adventures each 24 hours longer than the previous one. He did not attempt to sleep last night, he said, and is partaking of only coffee, milk and soup.

CONVERSION OF WAR RISK INSURANCE POLICIES CARRIED ON

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—Veterans bureau offices throughout the country will remain open until midnight tonight to receive applications for conversion of war risk insurance policies into peacetime insurance. Brig. Gen. Frank Hines announced today.

Thousands of ex-service men have failed to apply for conversion, and Hines warned that unless applications were made before midnight, the old policies would automatically lapse.

EXPECTANT MOTHER SLAIN; BABY DIES FROM SAME BULLET

Herrin, Ill., July 2.—(UP)—Mrs. Joe Palmero and her baby died in a hospital here today from a bullet wound inflicted by the woman's husband before the child was born. The attack on the expectant mother occurred at Royalton, Franklin county, following a family quarrel. A boarder at the Palmero home was shot and killed at the same time Mrs. Palmero was wounded.

Joe Palmero, the alleged slayer, was taken to jail at Benton, Ill.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

MEET WITH PRESIDENT COOLIDGE AT SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

REDUCTION IN SPECIFIC TAXES OF THREE HUNDRED MILLION

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rapid City, S. D., July 2.—Republican leaders who have been coming out to see President Coolidge at his summer White House on Squaw Creek near here have worked out an administration tax reduction program which will be offered to December session of congress.

This plan calls for reduction in specific taxes of $300,000,000 and retention of other rates as they are now—rather than a general reduction all along the line.

It developed today that an effort will be made to retain present rates on incomes of less than $25,000 upon the theory that the small taxpayer has reaped most benefits from recent reductions and that his rates now are at rock bottom normal level.

Changes suggested in this agreed plan include:

Reduction in corporation taxes from 12½ to 10 or 11 per cent.

Elimination of all taxes on theatre and baseball admissions and club dues.

Diminution of levies upon incomes of more than $25,000 on the ground that these incomes have reaped the smallest reduction since high wartime levies.

Slight reduction in automobile taxes.

All republican leaders who have called here have expressed agreement with these general principles. Representative Timberlake, republican color member of the house ways and means committee which must frame the new bill, added his approval in conference with Mr. Coolidge this morning.

"We must equalize taxes rather than reduce them," he declared. It is expected the plan will encounter serious opposition in the next congress. Independent and democratic groups have a strangle hold on the next senate and they can wreck the plan if they choose.

Usually they have advocated major reductions for small taxpayers and their leaders have indicated they will maintain this principle in the battle to be staged soon after congress reconvenes.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS FOR COM. BYRD

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced today he will recommend to President Coolidge that a distinguished flying cross, such as was presented to Charles A. Lindbergh, be awarded to Commander Richard E. Byrd for his trans-Atlantic flight. It is expected, also that some form of recognition will be given the three aviators who accompanied Byrd.

CONTINENTAL BANKERS MEET AT NEW YORK

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Conversations between Montague Norman, governor of the Bank of England, Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, Charles Rist, deputy governor of the Bank of France, and Benjamin Strong, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank continued today.

MRS. WRIGHT SEEKS SETTLEMENT

San Francisco, July 2.—(UP)—Provided Frank Lloyd Wright, prominent architect, agrees to a financial settlement out of court, Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright will be willing to start divorce action in Wisconsin, she announced today.

In the event Wright refuses the monetary terms she will hold up divorce suit, she said.

Traffic was suspended.

The scene, with a greatly contrasting setting, became in miniature that of Lindbergh's arrival at Le Bourget.

Crowds mobbed the automobiles. Police were unable for 15 minutes to force a passage for them.

After a few minutes of refuge in their apartments, the aviators were forced by the mad cheers of the crowds to appear on the balcony. Herbert Adams Gibbons, Rodman Wanamaker's personal representative, waving French and American flags.

A plan to take the fliers to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier direct from the station was abandoned because of the tremendous crowd.

Lieutenant Noville presented Acting Ambassador Sheldon Whitehouse with a letter of introduction.

Commander William S. Bainbridge, U. S. naval reserve, a distinguished surgeon who is looking after the health of the aviators, announced that Byrd and Acosta still were suffering from shock.

They were to be X-rayed this afternoon.

Byrd, it was announced, had a number of cuts on his chest.

All three still were tired. Only Balchen, who brought down the plane successfully after its flight—was showing no effects of his ordeal.

It was reported that Bainbridge was nursing the fliers in preparation for a South Pole flight, whose details had been kept secret.

Thousands of automobiles had become immovably massed between the station and the hotel during the aviators' stay.

BARRAGE OF WORDS HURLED BY CHAPLINS

THE ARGUMENT CONTINUES BETWEEN COMEDIAN AND WIFE

MRS. CHAPLIN FILES 61 TYPE-WRITTEN PAGES IN HER ANSWER

Los Angeles, July 2.—(UP)—The barrage of words hurled back and forth between Charles Chaplin, film comedian, and his estranged wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, continued with unabated vigor today.

With thousands of words of accusations on each side already in court files, 61 closely typewritten pages consisting of Mrs. Chaplin's answer to her husband's cross complaint for divorce, were before superior court today.

Mrs. Chaplin was a devoted young wife, she declared in her answer. Chaplin, she said, was a cold, cruel husband.

In Chaplin's cross bill filed a few days previously, he charged Mrs. Chaplin was a woman of the world while he was a home loving, hard working actor, anxious to return to his wife each evening after work.

None of Chaplin's complaints about her, however, were true, Mrs. Chaplin replied. She denied in much detail that she had ever been friendly with other men "in the manner intimated by her husband."

Chaplin, she said, merely was inordinately jealous. She charged that once Chaplin had accused her of having improper relations with one member of a dinner party consisting of a woman, the woman's son and the son's fiancée. Chaplin, according to his wife, had told her he had watched the party through a window.

Neither did she drink excessively, as charged in the comedian's cross bill, Mrs. Chaplin continued. In fact, she said, she drank intoxicants to a "much greater extent than she."

Moreover, Mrs. Chaplin never was extravagant, she declared. She even made much of her clothing, she said and once made a $2.50 hat do for her "Sunday best" for a considerable period of time.

A $1,900 diamond studded wrist watch was the only expensive gift Chaplin ever gave her, Mrs. Chaplin said. And then he spoiled the effect, she said, when he told her he bought it only that the public would believe relations between them were amicable.

She charged that as soon as she had filed suit for divorce, Chaplin had attempted to find persons who would be willing to testify against her character. He had approached Hawaiian beach boys and others on a steamship in which she had made a trip to Honolulu for such evidence, she declared.

Mrs. Chaplin loved her husband with "the romantic devotion of a 16-year-old school girl for her first and only sweetheart," she said. Never was she in company with other men for improper reasons, she concluded.

D. C. Stephenson, Former Klan Head, Emerges from Seclusion

Michigan City, Ind., July 2.—(UP)—The trustees and officers of the Indiana state prison who have been accused of keeping D. C. Stephenson in a seclusion unapproached in the history of state penal institutions had removed virtually every restriction today. Newspaper men have been permitted to interview Stephenson privately, with officers cut of hearing.

Prosecutor William H. Remy of Marion county and others who wish, have been told that Stephenson will be released into their custody at any time for a grand jury investigation or similar purpose. These developments followed Stephenson's announcement that he was "ready to talk."

But although he was assured of an audience in every newspaper in the state, the former leader of the Ku Klux Klan failed to take advantage of his first privilege.

CLAIMS AL SMITH CAN NEVER CARRY THE SOUTHLAND

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Gov. Al Smith of New York could never carry the south as a presidential candidate because "the Protestants of America are determined to keep Popery out of the White House," Sen. Thomas Heelin, democrat, Alabama, said in a two-hour speech last night in Queens.

The audience of 3,000 men, guests of the United Protest alliance of Queens, hissed Smith's name whenever it was mentioned.

The Alabamian said he didn't know where the 1928 democratic convention would be held, but he knew it would not be in New York.

"We never will have a Catholic president," Heelin continued. "Nevertheless, I am afraid of Smith and the Roman Catholic political machine."

PRES. COOLIDGE TO GIVE HIS BIRTHDAY PARTY

JOINT CELEBRATION OF HIS OWN AND NATION'S NATAL
DAY

ALL RAPID CITY INTERESTED IN THE EXTENSIVE FESTIVITIES

Rapid City, S. D., July 2.—(UP)—President Coolidge is going to give a birthday party on the lawn of the summer White House next Monday—a joint celebration of his own 55th birthday and the birthday of American independence.

Newspapermen and photographers, stationed at the summer White House, were formally invited by Mr. Coolidge today to attend his party and to hear a cowboy band. Hundreds of citizens from the surrounding country are expected here.

Mounted Boy Scout troops from Custer will ride over to congratulate Mr. Coolidge, headed by C. H. Locke, Scout master. Locke will present the president with a horse, saddle, bridle, chaps, spurs and boots.

MORE HUMAN EAGLES PERCHING ON FLAGPOLES

Omaha, July 2.—(UP)—In training, he said, to beat the world's record established in New Jersey by A. F. "Shipwreck" Kelly, Rex Henton, 26, a steeplejack, had remained 24 hours atop a flagpole on a downtown theater at noon today.

Henton will end his lofty vigil at 8 p. m. tonight and plans a series of similar adventures each 24 hours longer than the previous one. He did not attempt to sleep last night, he said, and is partaking of only coffee, milk and soup.

CONVERSION OF WAR RISK INSURANCE POLICIES CARRIED ON

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—Veterans bureau offices throughout the country will remain open until midnight tonight to receive applications for conversion of war risk insurance policies into peacetime insurance. Brig. Gen. Frank Hines announced today.

Thousands of ex-service men have failed to apply for conversion, and Hines warned that unless applications were made before midnight, the old policies would automatically lapse.

EXPECTANT MOTHER SLAIN; BABY DIES FROM SAME BULLET

Herrin, Ill., July 2.—(UP)—Mrs. Joe Palmero and her baby died in a hospital here today from a bullet wound inflicted by the woman's husband before the child was born. The attack on the expectant mother occurred at Royalton, Franklin county, following a family quarrel. A boarder at the Palmero home was shot and killed at the same time Mrs. Palmero was wounded.

Joe Palmero, the alleged slayer, was taken to jail at Benton, Ill.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

MEET WITH PRESIDENT COOLIDGE AT SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

REDUCTION IN SPECIFIC TAXES OF THREE HUNDRED MILLION

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent) Rapid City, S. D., July 2.—Republican leaders, who have been coming out to see President Coolidge at his summer White House on Squaw Creek near here have worked out an administration tax reduction program which will be offered to December session of congress.

This plan calls for reduction in specific taxes of $300,000,000 and retention of other rates as they are now—rather than a general reduction all along the line.

It developed today that an effort will be made to retain present rates on incomes of less than $25,000 upon the theory that the small taxpayer has reaped most benefits from recent reductions and that his rates now are at rock bottom normal level.

Changes suggested in this agreed plan include:

Reduction in corporations taxes from 12½ to 10 or 11 per cent.

Elimination of all taxes on theatre and baseball admissions and club dues.

Diminution of levies upon incomes of more than $25,000 on the ground that these incomes have reaped the smallest reduction since high war-time levies.

Slight reduction in automobile taxes.

All republican leaders who have called here have expressed agreement with these general principles. Representative Timberlake, republican color member of the house ways and means committee which must frame the new bill, added his approval in conference with Mr. Coolidge this morning.

"We must equalize taxes rather than reduce them," he declared.

It is expected the plan will encounter serious opposition in the next congress. Independent and democratic groups have a strangle hold on the next senate and they can wreck the plan if they choose. Usually they have advocated major reductions for small taxpayers and their leaders have indicated they will maintain this principle in the battle to be staged soon after congress reconvenes.

DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS FOR COM. BYRD

Washington, July 2.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur announced today he will recommend to President Coolidge that a distinguished flying cross, such as was presented to Charles A. Lindbergh, be awarded to Commander Richard E. Byrd for his trans-Atlantic flight. It is expected, also that some form of recognition will be given the three aviators who accompanied Byrd.

CONTINENTAL BANKERS MEET AT NEW YORK

New York, July 2.—(UP)—Conversations between Montague Norman, governor of the Bank of England, Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, Charles Rist, deputy governor of the Bank of France, and Benjamin Strong, governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank continued today.

MRS. WRIGHT SEEKS SETTLEMENT

San Francisco, July 2.—(UP)—Provided Frank Lloyd Wright, prominent architect, agrees to a financial settlement out of court, Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright will be willing to start divorce action in Wisconsin, she announced today.

In the event Wright refuses the momentary terms she will hold up divorce suit, she said.

Two New Thermotite Cottages Erect-

The Brainerd tourist camp still retains its great popularity with the tourists despite the weather which has been hindering visiting motorists this season.

Cars have registered from almost every state in the union since the camp opened, May 15. One unique car that registered was a big pullman touring, a complete home on wheels. The body was built of aluminum and contained a living room, bedroom and bath room. The owners were acquainted with a number of Brainerd residents and had an admiring throng about their car while using the camp.

The grounds have been kept in excellent shape by the caretakers, Harley E. Smith assisted by Mrs. Smith and A. F. Krause who is in charge from 5 a. m. to 1 o'clock. The lawns are very well kept and are a model of neatness. All tables have awnings, something very much appreciated by tourists.

Two new thermotite cottages that were erected this year, besides bringing in revenue for the camp are much in demand by tourists that do not have camping equipment or those that do not wish to put up their tents for an over night stay. The cottages are painted green and white, have polished floors and can comfortably house two persons.

BETTER SIRES SCORE IN CROW WING COUNTY

OF the farm paper publicity gained regarding our Better Sires Day celebration, that of the Farmstead, Stock and Home, published at Minneapolis, is the first to reach the desk of the Brainerd Dispatch.

H. M. Harden, an assistant editor of that important publication, covered the celebration and gathered his information firsthand. His story is so important that it was given first page prominence in the agricultural journal, embellished with three pictures. We think his comments so well expressed that we give excerpts from this editorial page.

"Three years ago, Crow Wing County, Minnesota, was facing a certain agricultural condition that called for action. A great county, possessed of splendid potential livestock resources, it was not realizing properly upon its opportunities. Situated no differently than many other sections of the Northwest, it began to take stock of its latent possibilities and to move in the direction of their realization.

"Fortunately Crow Wing had the intelligent and untiring services of County Agent E. G. Roth, who had studied the situation at first hand and at all angles. He grew enthusiastic over the possible development of the county along dairy lines and looked about for means and measures that would eventually lead to a realization of the desired development. He had found farm dairying going along in something of a rut that precluded improvement in production or financial returns.

"He found that scrub cows were numerous and destined to reproduce their kind and their kind only. Such a situation could lead nowhere but to the dead-level of low profits, and its continuation would keep Crow Wing County from a realization of much of the bounty that Nature had bestowed upon it.

"Finding a class of farmers who were forward-minded and progressive, Mr. Roth discussed with them the value of purebred sires and the dire need for their use in Crow Wing County. The response from these farmers was all that could be desired. They signified a hearty desire to accomplish improvement in their herds as far as it was possible for them to do so.

"But the financial burden required to at once place any great number of high class dairy sires in the county was more than they could reasonably undertake. To make the plan decided upon feasible upon a large scale, it was necessary to bring to the county at one time 20 or more pure-bred bulls. At this stage, the progressive business men of Brainerd enthusiastically entered the game. Through their Chamber of Commerce, they came forward with the proposal to finance the purchase of any number of breeding animals that might be required to best further the dairy development in Crow Wing County.

"Then a careful survey was made of the number of bulls that could be properly placed and handled. Meetings were held, a breeding organization was formed and decision made to purchase 24 pure-bred bulls. The survey determined that of this number 16 Guernsey and eight Holsteins was the preferred proportion.

"Mr. Roth and others went into well developed dairy sections and carefully selected and purchased these 24 bulls. The animals were brought to Brainerd, and their arrival was made the occasion for a county-wide celebration. The bulls were drawn by lot and taken to their respective blocks and placed in the hands of selected caretakers. Here in each of these blocks, the use of these sires was provided for each member of the association. All of this was three years ago. A plan, a trial, an experiment. Now what has been accomplished in these three short years? Has the dream come true?

"On Saturday, June 18, 1927, Brainerd and Crow Wing County held another celebration. It was a sequel to the first. It was the sires' return to give an account of their three years' service. What had they done and where was the proof? The bulls came back to Brainerd on that day and they brought living testimony of their use. Calves from two-year-olds, to two-day-olds were in evidence, and they told a story of success from one end of Crow Wing to the other. There was a happy and a solid setting for this last celebration, and the people of town and country made the most of it."

Mr. Harden gives an account of the celebration day of June 18 and in conclusion states that as a result of the pure-bred sire campaign that Crow Wing County now has 2,500 more grade dairy calves and heifers and that the work has just begun.

"This breeding circuit is one of the largest and most successful in the country. It is destined to revamp the dairy industry in its territory and to eventually make Crow Wing County an outstanding dairy center."

NEWS ABOUT JOE BUSH

BRAINERD baseball fans were glad to hear that the New York Giants have signed "Bullet" Joe Bush, who formerly pitched for the Athletics, Red Sox, Yankees, Senators, Browns and Pirates.

If the old soup bone of an arm will get back to shape and McGraw puts Bush to work in red hot weather, we are sure he will win his games. Bush was always a hot weather pitcher. When other moundsmen were about faded to a frazzle by the heat, Bush warmed up and did his best work.

With proper care Bush will have a new period on the mound, and when his work as a boxman is over, his batting eye and fielding ability should give him a place in the outer garden.

WHAT A WIFE SHOULD KNOW

OF course, every husband who is not unduly selfish realizes that his wife deserves some little relaxation and pleasure. He likes to feel that on her way to the grocery in the morning she has a moment to forget household drudgeries and to fill her lungs with good fresh air. He likes to feel that she can look forward to going to church on the Sabbath, even if she does have to come in late after bathing the baby. He sees justice in her going downtown to shop, once every two weeks, and does not begrudge her a hearty lettuce sandwich and an hour in one of the smaller movies.

Unfortunately, most wives do not comprehend the point where liberty becomes license. They do not discern how important a part of the home they are in the estimation of their husbands. Someone has said quite truly that men regard home as a place to go back to. And in that place they expect to find their wives. It is, therefore, disconcerting for husbands to discover, as so frequently happens, that, returning from a long hard day of golf, their wives are nowhere about. There is no welcoming smile, no one to prepare a cooling drink. The wives are off at a neighbor's, probably taking the children along, with not so much as a by-your-leave.

Or husbands come home after a trying day at the office. Perhaps they have eaten rather well than wisely at lunch, have had to laugh at the boss' jokes in conference. When husbands need them most wives are out playing a game of bridge or drinking a cup of tea. Wives do not realize how restful it is to a husband to read his paper while his wife sits by silently sewing or while she goes about her duties in the kitchen with a song on her lips.

Husbands do not like to think that their wives are selfish. Being themselves charitably inclined, they prefer to call these lapses thoughtless ness. Thoughtful wives are rare, but their rewards are great, for they enjoy the silent esteem of their husbands. Nor is a husband's gratitude limited to spiritual rewards, by his wife's devotion as to supplement his affections with a gift. There have been instances recorded where a husband was so moved of peanut brittle.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

BETTER SIRE SCORE IN CROW WING COUNTY

OF the farm paper publicity gained regarding our Better Sires Day celebration, that of the Farmstead, Stock and Home, published at Minneapolis, is the first to reach the desk of the Brainerd Dispatch.

H. M. Harden, an assistant editor of that important publication, covered the celebration and gathered his information first-hand. His story is so important that it was given first page prominence in the agricultural journal, embellished with three pictures.

We think his comments so well expressed that we give excerpts on this editorial page.

"Three years ago, Crow Wing County, Minnesota, was facing a certain agricultural condition that called for action. A great county, possessed of splendid potential livestock resources, it was not realizing properly upon its opportunities. Situated no differently than many other sections of the Northwest, it began to take stock of its latent possibilities and to move in the direction of their realization.

"Fortunately Crow Wing had the intelligent and untiring services of County Agent E. G. Roth, who had studied the situation at first hand and at all angles. He grew enthusiastic over the possible development of the county along dairy lines and looked about for means and measures that would eventually lead to a realization of the desired development. He had found farm dairying going along in something of a rut that precluded improvement in production or financial returns.

"He found that scrub cows were numerous and destined to reproduce their kind and their kind only. Such a situation could lead nowhere but to the dead-level of low profits, and its continuation would keep Crow Wing County from a realization of much of the bounty that Nature had bestowed upon it.

"Finding a class of farmers who were forward-minded and progressive, Mr. Roth discussed with them the value of purebred sires and the dire need for their use in Crow Wing County. The response from these farmers was all that could be desired. They signified a hearty desire to accomplish improvement in their herds as far as it was possible for them to do so.

"But the financial burden required to at once place any great number of high class dairy sires in the county was more than they could reasonably undertake. To make the plan decided upon feasible upon a large scale, it was necessary to bring to the county at one time 20 or more pure-bred bulls. At this stage, the progressive business men of Brainerd enthusiastically entered the game. Through their Chamber of Commerce, they came forward with the proposal to finance the purchase of any number of breeding animals that might be required to best further the dairy development in Crow Wing County.

"Then a careful survey was made of the number of bulls that could be properly placed and handled. Meetings were held, a breeding organization was formed and decision made to purchase 24 pure-bred bulls. The survey determined that of this number 16 Guernsey and eight Holsteins was the preferred proportion.

"Mr. Roth and others went into well developed dairy sections and carefully selected and purchased these 24 bulls. The animals were brought to Brainerd, and their arrival was made the occasion for a county-wide celebration. The bulls were drawn by lot and taken to their respective blocks and placed in the hands of selected caretakers. Here in each of these blocks, the use of these sires was provided for each member of the association. All of this was three years ago. A plan, a trial, an experiment. Now what has been accomplished in these three short years? Has the dream come true?

"On Saturday, June 18, 1927, Brainerd and Crow Wing County held another celebration. It was a sequel to the first. It was the sires' return to give an account of their three years' service. What had they done and where was the proof? The bulls came back to Brainerd on that day and they brought living testimony of their use. Calves from two-year-olds, to two-day-olds were in evidence, and they told a story of success from one end of Crow Wing to the other. There was a happy and a solid setting for this last celebration, and the people of town and country made the most of it."

Mr. Harden gives an account of the celebration day of June 18 and in conclusion states that as a result of the pure-bred sire campaign that Crow Wing County now has 2,500 more grade dairy calves and heifers and that the work has just begun.

"This breeding circuit is one of the largest and most successful in the country. It is destined to revamp the dairy industry in its territory and to eventually make Crow Wing County an outstanding dairy center."

NEWS ABOUT JOE BUSH

BRAINERD baseball fans were glad to hear that the New York Giants have signed "Bullet" Joe Bush, who formerly pitched for the Athletics, Red Sox, Yankees, Senators, Browns and Pirates.

If the old soup bone of an arm will get back to shape and McGraw puts Bush to work in red hot weather, we are sure he will win his games. Bush was always a hot weather pitcher. When other moundmen were about faded to a frazzle by the heat, Bush warmed up and did his best work.

With proper care Bush will have a new period on the mound, and when his work as a boxman is over, his batting eye and fielding ability should give him a place in the outer garden.

WHAT A WIFE SHOULD KNOW

OF course, every husband who is not unduly selfish realizes that his wife deserves some little relaxation and pleasure. He likes to feel that on her way to the grocery in the morning she has a moment to forget household drudgeries and to fill her lungs with good fresh air. He likes to feel that she can look forward to going to church on the Sabbath, even if she does have to come in late after bathing the baby. He sees justice in her going downtown to shop, once every two weeks, and does not begrudge her a hearty lettuce sandwich and an hour in one of the smaller movies.

Unfortunately, most wives do not comprehend the point where liberty becomes license. They do not discern how important a part of the home they are in the estimation of their husbands. Someone has said quite truly that men regard home as a place to go back to. And in that place they expect to find their wives. It is, therefore, disconcerting for husbands to discover, as so frequently happens, that, returning from a long hard day of golf, their wives are nowhere about. There is no welcoming smile, no one to prepare a cooling drink. The wives are off at a neighbor's, probably taking the children along, with not so much as a by-your-leave.

Or husbands come home after a trying day at the office. Perhaps they have eaten rather well than wisely at lunch, have had to laugh at the boss' jokes in conference. When husbands need them most wives are out playing a game of bridge or drinking a cup of tea. Wives do not realize how restful it is to a husband to read his paper while his wife sits by silently sewing or while she goes about her duties in the kitchen with a song on her lips.

Husbands do not like to think that their wives are selfish. Being themselves charitably inclined, they prefer to call these lapses thoughtless ness. Thoughtful wives are rare, but their rewards are great, for they enjoy the silent esteem of their husbands. Nor is a husband's gratitude limited to spiritual rewards. By his wife's devotion as to supplement his affections with a gift. There have been instances recorded where a husband was so moved of peanut brittle.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

RUTH NOSED OUT OF 1st PLACE BY GEHRIG

FIRST BASEMAN OF N. Y. YANKEES NEW SWAT KING

HITS HIS 26TH 4-BASE BLOW OF SEASON IN GAME AGAINST BOSTON
YANKEES WON 7 TO 4 FOR THEIR SIXTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY

(By United Press)
Yesterday's hero — Lou Gehrig, first baseman of the New York Yankees, who went into the lead for home runs by hitting his twenty-sixth homer of the season in the first inning of the game against Boston. The Yankees won 7-4 for their sixth consecutive victory and for Boston's thirteenth consecutive loss. Gehrig is now one homer up on Babe Ruth, who incidentally was on first by virtue of a single when Buster hit his blow. It is the first time since 1922 that Ruth has been nosed out of first place as a home run hitter at this stage of the season.

Bunching hits where they were necessary, the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-2. Hal Carlson worked effectively for the Chicagoans and permitted only five hits.

Washington won its 8th straight victory by defeating Philadelphia, 2-1. The last three Washington victories have been at the expense of the Mackmen. Philadelphia took the lead in the fourth but Washington scored twice in the sixth for victory.

Six runs scored in the third inning enabled Detroit to win from Cleveland, 10-5. It was Detroit's tenth victory out of the last eleven starts. The Tigers got nine hits in three innings.

Six pitchers were used and batting averages were increased as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Chicago White Sox, 14-12. The game was a see-saw affair until the last of the sixth when the Browns bunched several singles and a home run for six runs.

Carmen Hill won his eleventh victory of the season as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati, 5-1. The Pirates bunched his off Luque in the second and sixth innings to bring about the victory.

The Giants and Braves divided a double bill, Boston winning the first game, 7-2, and the Giants taking the nightcap, 4-1. Mann, a pinch hitter, singled in the ninth inning of the opening game to bring in two runs that spelled success for Boston. Philadelphia rallied in the ninth inning, scoring two runs, and defeated Brooklyn, 7-6. Barrett and Partidge hit home runs for Brooklyn.

Indianapolis, Ind. — Pounding Koupa hard in early frames of the game, Toledo took a five-run lead before he was relieved and defeated Indianapolis here, 6 to 5. Cote of Toledo knocked two triples and three singles in five times at bat.

Columbus, O. — Columbus took a 2 to 1 victory over Louisville here, when Schlieber's triple in the 8th drove in Sullivan, who reached first on an error. It was a pitcher's duel between Tincup and O. Biemiller.

Milwaukee, Wis. — The final game of the series here, between Milwaukee and St. Paul, was called in the ninth when the score was tied 2 to 2, to allow St. Paul to catch a train. Kim Lear was suspended for three days for disputing Umpire Goetz.

Minneapolis — Minneapolis took the third consecutive game of the three-game series with Kansas City here, 9 to 7. Only once this season have the Blues taken a game from the Kels, although lucky breaks yesterday netted five runs in one inning.

BASEBALL'S BIG FIVE

Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-sixth home run, taking the lead over Babe Ruth, and a double in four times up. Babe Ruth had the same number of chances and made the same number of hits, both singles.

Hornsby had two singles in seven times at bat in the Giants-Braves double-header.

Speaker went hitless in three attempts.

Cobb failed as a pinch-hitter.

Averages:

Gehrig	275	107	.393	26
Hornsby	255	94	.369	14
Cobb	204	75	.367	2

Idea Is a Good One

"It is an excellent practice to carry money always in more than one pocket," says a writer in an exchange. This is a commendable idea, fellows. Carry plenty of money at all times in every pocket. By HENRY L. FARRELL

New York, July 2.—As the major league ball clubs tear or crawl to the July 4 mark, the old legend is recalled—"Look at the standings on the Fourth and make your bets."

The theory is that half of the season—or a little less, according to actual mathematics—the early season phenoms could be shaken into the lower positions and the teams with the real class should be up on top.

Approaching the Fourth this year, the hunch looks proper.

The New York Yankees are out with a lead of ten games, with everything going well. The champion St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates are neck and neck in the National League.

Despite the moans of Miller Huggins that breakers may be ahead of his Yankees, it does not look possible for them to lose unless the breakers are record breakers. He is said to be concerned over how his pitchers will hold out in the stretch and how serious the weakness at third base, where Joe Dugan hasn't been doing so well, may become.

But it's a two to one bet that any other manager with Ruth, Gehrig, Combs, Lazzeri, Meusel, two slugging catchers and some fair pitcher, would not be looking for trouble.

Huggins may be recalling the slump his team took last year in late season when it was almost overtaken by the Cleveland Indians. Washington isn't too far behind to do some speeding and even a ten game lead can fade away rapidly, he knows.

If the Senators had had their full strength from the start of the season they probably would be right up behind the Yankees.

The Athletics seem to be clear out of it and the Chicago White Sox suffered from a slump started when the Yankees gave them a drubbing in the last games.

Unless the Giants start soon to play some baseball, the National League race will be St. Louis, Pittsburgh and Chicago. And it doesn't look as if the Giants were going to start.

The experts still are shouting that the Cubs have no business in third place, but they're in there and they have had some chances to drop out.

The Pirates were a strong club when they started the season but the Cardinals were also strong and they're both good yet.

In the last hard drive, however, the Cardinals probably will be better balanced for a winning fight.

FIRST BASEMAN OF N. Y. YANKEES NEW SWAT KING

HITS HIS 26TH 4-BASE BLOW OF SEASON IN GAME AGAINST BOSTON

YANKEES WON 7 TO 4 FOR THEIR SIXTH CONSECUTIVE VICTORY

(By United Press)

Yesterday's hero — Lou Gehrig, first baseman of the New York Yankees, who went into the lead for home runs by hitting his twenty-sixth homer of the season in the first inning of the game against Boston. The Yankees won 7-4 for their sixth consecutive victory and for Boston's thirteenth consecutive loss. Gehrig is now one homer up on Babe Ruth, who incidentally was on first by virtue of a single when Luster hit his blow. It is the first time since 1922 that Ruth has been nosed out of first place as a home run hitter at this stage of the season.

Bunching hits where they were necessary, the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2. Hal Carlson worked effectively for the Chicagoans and permitted only five hits.

Washington won its 8th straight victory by defeating Philadelphia, 2-1. The last three Washington victories have been at the expense of the Mackmen. Philadelphia took the lead in the fourth but Washington scored twice in the sixth for victory.

Six runs scored in the third inning enabled Detroit to win from Cleveland, 10-5. It was Detroit's tenth victory out of the last eleven starts. The Tigers got nine hits in three innings.

Six pitchers were used and batting averages were increased as the St. Louis Browns defeated the Chicago White Sox, 14-12. The game was a see-saw affair until the last of the sixth when the Browns bunched several singles and a home run for six runs.

Carmen Hill won his eleventh victory of the season as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati, 5-1. The Pirates bunched hits off Luque in the second and sixth innings to bring about the victory.

The Giants and Braves divided a double bill, Boston winning the first game, 7-2, and the Giants taking the nightcap, 4-1. Mann, a pinch hitter, singled in the ninth inning of the opening game to bring in two runs that spelled success for Boston. Philadelphia rallied in the ninth inning, scoring two runs, and defeated Brooklyn, 7-6. Barrett and Partridge hit home runs for Brooklyn.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Pounding Kouhal hard in early frames of the game, Toledo took a five-run lead before he was relieved and defeated Indianapolis here, 6 to 5. Cote of Toledo knocked two triples and three singles in five times at bat.

Columbus, O.—Columbus took a 2 to 1 victory over Louisville here, when Schliebner's triple in the 8th drove in Sullivan, who reached first on an error. It was a pitchers' duel between Tineup and O. Biemiller.

Milwaukee, Wis.—The final game of the series here, between Milwaukee and St. Paul, was called in the ninth when the score was tied 2 to 2, to allow St. Paul to catch a train. Kim Lear was suspended for three days for disputing Umpire Goetz.

Minneapolis—Minneapolis took the third consecutive game of the three-game series with Kansas City here, 9 to 7. Only once this season have the Blues taken a game from the Kels, although lucky breaks yesterday netted five runs in one inning.

BASEBALL'S BIG FIVE

Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-sixth home run, taking the lead over Babe Ruth, and a double in four times up. Babe Ruth had the same number of chances and made the same number of hits, both singles.

Hornshy had two singles in seven times at bat in the Giants-Braves double-header. Speaker went hitless in three attempts.

Cobb failed as a pinch-hitter. Averages:

Gehrig	275	107	.393	26
Hornshy	255	94	.369	14
Cobb	204	75	.367	2

Four Sought on Robbery Charges

St. Paul, July 2.—(UP)—Four men wanted in South Dakota for the robbery of the Huron, S. D., Farmers and Merchants State bank are determined to fight extradition.

Following Governor Theodore Christianson's granting of a request for their return to Huron, writs of habeas corpus were granted by Judge Olin B. Lewis in Ramsey county district court, late Friday.

As a result new hearings will be held during the next three weeks for Roy Rogers, Roy Shea, Patrick Hanley and P. T. Driscoll.

The four men were indicted on charges of first degree robbery in Beadle county, S. D.

Their attorneys contended in their writs that alibis were presented by the defendants and that no evidence to connect them with the South Dakota robbery was presented at the hearings before Governor Christianson.

Rogers hearing was set by Judge Lewis for July 19. Shea will be held July 11 and the others on July 12.

Considered the fastest of the season, the Y. M. C. A. took the baseball game last evening at the municipal diamond from the Northeast by the score of 1 to 0.

The pitching of Van Walk, N. E., was of high order, but laurels go to Whitlock who made his first start of the season for the Y. M. C. A. and sent eleven men to the bench via the strikeout route.

Van Walk had a no hit, no run game up to the sixth, but it was in that inning that Stevens connected with a single, was advanced on an error and scored on Nutting's infield hit.

The fielding of Nutting was a feature of the evening. He snaged two hard drives on a dead run, saving the "Y" team from defeat.

Holman took the batting honors of the day with two hits in three times at bat.

Cincinnati, one of the charter members of the National league, has had more managers than any other club in the league, no less than nineteen different men having held the reins at various times.

President Harry Williams of the Pacific Coast league announced that attendance for the first four weeks of the season had shown a gain of 62,000 over the corresponding period for 1926.

Another Sewell for the big show! This time it is Tommy Sewell, who also comes from the University of Alabama team. He is a third baseman and goes to the Chicago Cubs for a trial.

ENTERTAIN THE PI BETA PHIS

Fine Program Given by Brainerd Talent at Ransford Hotel During Luncheon Hour

AUTOMOBILE TOUR
Then Dancing at Lum Park, Brainerd People Thanked by Mrs. Allen, of Chicago

Sixty Pi Beta Phi girls, on their way from Breezy Point Lodge to the Yellowstone Park, were entertained at Brainerd by the Chamber of Commerce committee including Chairman Harry Butler, City Attorney D. H. Fullerton and John A. Hoffbauer.

After their luncheon at the Ransford hotel, Brainerd talent gave a splendid program including selections by the American Legion Auxiliary orchestra, soprano solos by Mrs. Helen Clark, violin solo by Miss Geraldine Kiebler, baritone solo by A. C. Mraz, all the piano accompaniments being played by Mrs. Watter F. Wieland.

The visitors sang a fraternity song. Mrs. Allen, of Chicago, chairman of transportation at the Pi Beta Phi convention, responded and voiced her grateful appreciation of the reception tendered them and thanked the Brainerd people for the program given.

Automobiles supplied by Lions, Rotarians and Chamber of Commerce men then took the girls on a tour of the lake country and on to Grand View Lodge. From there they were taken to Lum Park, where the U. C. T. had a dance. After an hour at the park they were whisked back to the depot and boarded their three sleepers which were attached to the 10:20 train for Staples.

"We shall always remember Brainerd and Breezy Point," said the girls. Many intend to come back next year.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT BARGAIN BUYING

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, June 29.—(UP)—The woman who keeps herself smartly dressed on a limited income cannot afford to buy clothing at the commencement of seasons. June is one of the most interesting months of the year for the shopper. Summer costumes are sold in June at half and oftentimes less than half of their original prices.

One really doesn't require summer clothes until June or July and to buy them in advance is a mistake unless one has plenty of funds to spend on clothes each season. The frocks that are sold in June are usually fresh and clean, for due to the late season they are not left-overs or garments soiled through handling. Even should they be soiled one saves sufficient on their price to afford having them cleaned.

The daily newspapers offer sales each day which keep one informed as to what's going on in the various shops and the woman who likes to save as much as possible by buying the best frocks at the lowest prices keeps tab continually on her newspaper.

Of course, if one merely cares to look presentable one can buy cheap costumes at all seasons. But, to look expensively gowned on a small income, one must buy high-priced gowns at reduced prices.

This week several of the finest shops on Fifth Avenue are selling off their summery costumes for $27 and $30 each, regardless of their original prices. Some of these are beautiful hand-made or embroidered imports which have a distinction which the average gown of that price lacks. Hats, regardless of their original price, are selling for $5 and $7.50. Shoes, likewise, have been greatly reduced. In other words, the woman who has not been collecting her summer wardrobe, has a chance now to outfit herself in costly clothing for about the same amount she might spend on a makeshift wardrobe early in the season.

To my mind, it's far preferable to have three or four dozen cheap

European Buffer States

Poland is spoken of as a "buffer state" for the same reason that Switzerland is—that is, because of its geographical location. A buffer state is one which intervenes geographically between larger states and lessens the danger of rupture from immediate contact of their unfriendly elements.

AUTOMOBILE TOUR

Then Dancing at Lum Park, Brainerd People Thanked by Mrs.
Allen, of Chicago

Sixty Pi Beta Phi girls, on their way from Breezy Point Lodge to the Yellowstone Park, were entertained at Brainerd by the Chamber of Commerce committee including Chairman
Harry Butler, City Attorney D. H.
Fullerton and John A. Hoffbauer.

After their luncheon at the Ransford hotel, Brainerd talent gave a splendid program including selections by the American Legion Auxiliary orchestra, soprano solos by Mrs. Helen Clark, violin solo by Miss Geraldine Kiebler, baritone solo by A. C. Mraz, all the piano accompaniments being played by Mrs. Walter
P. Wieland.

The visitors sang a fraternity song. Mrs. Allen, of Chicago, chairman of transportation at the Pi Beta Phi convention, responded and voiced her grateful appreciation of the reception tendered them and thanked the Brainerd people for the program given.

Automobiles supplied by Lions,
Rotarians and Chamber of Commerce men then took the girls on a tour of the lake country and on to Grand View Lodge. From there they were taken to Lum Park, where the U. C. T. had a dance. After an hour at the park they were whisked back to the depot and boarded their three sleepers which were attached to the 10:20 train for Staples.

"We shall always remember Brainerd and Breezy Point," said the girls. Many intend to come back next year.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT BARGAIN BUYING

By HEDDA HOYT
New York, June 25.—(UP)—The woman who keeps herself smartly dressed on a limited income cannot afford to buy clothing at the commencement of seasons. June is one of the most interesting months of the year for the shopper. Summer costumes are sold in June at half and oftentimes less than half of their original prices.

One really doesn't require summer clothes until June or July and to buy them in advance is a mistake unless one has plenty of funds to spend on clothes each season. The frocks that are sold in June are usually fresh and clean, for due to the late season they are not left-overs or garments soiled through handling. Even should they be soiled one saves sufficient on their price to afford having them cleaned.

The daily newspapers offer sales each day which keep one informed as to what's going on in the various shops and the woman who likes to save as much as possible by buying the best frocks at the lowest prices keeps tab continually on her newspaper.

Of course, if one merely cares to look presentable one can buy cheap costumes at all seasons. But, to look expensively gowned on a small income, one must buy high-priced gowns at reduced prices.

This week several of the finest shops on Fifth Avenue are selling off their summery costumes for $27 and $30 each, regardless of their original prices. Some of these are beautiful hand-made or embroidered imports which have a distinction which the average gown of that price lacks.

Hats, regardless of their original price, are selling for $5 and $7.50.
Shoes, likewise, have been greatly reduced. In other words, the woman who has not been collecting her summer wardrobe, has a chance now to outfit herself in costly clothing for about the same amount she might spend on a makeshift wardrobe early in the season.

To my mind, it's far preferable to have three or four dozen cheap ensembles including silk frocks and harmonizing silk or cloth coats selling for $18.50. Many of them formerly priced at over $100. After July 4th there will be great reductions of Summer clothing of all sorts and anyone who heeds the advertisments may find wonderful opportunities.

New York, June 30.—(UP)—To the city dweller Summer styles are not vastly different from Winter styles, since one cannot wear smart sports costumes and colorful accessories on city streets and since the semi-dressy silk frock has become almost a uniform for town wear. Those sojourning in the country week-ends find that unless they have smart sports clothes and accessories they are not properly dressed.

The sports dresses of one or two-piece type, whether silk, jersey or sweater and skirt type, is the basis of ones sports attire. Knitted coats in white or pastel colors, collared in clipped wool resembling fur, are among the smartest wraps for country wear. New, too are printed linen coats in jacket or full length.

Linen slippers laced over the in-step in pale pastel shades are worn quite a bit with smart linen or silk sports frocks. They may also be worn with the semi-formal Summer frock.

Large-brimmed straw hats trimmed with crown ribbon or flat flowers are chosen in preference to small straw shapes at present. Small felts, however, continue to be worn with sports suits and frocks.

Coolie coats in gay colors in both cotton and silk materials are being worn upon the beach. They are also popular for negligee wear.

Dark blue kid shoes are featured with navy costumes at smart resorts.
Rubber bathing robes with high heels of hard rubber are newer than flat-heeled types.

Stockings for country wear are a bit more sunburnt in shade than for town wear.

Yellowish green is one of the popular new colors for out-of-town.
Accessories used with this shade are generally pale beige. Moka, a new deep brown shade, is stressed for hats, shoes and handbags.

Most two-piece frocks are belted this season. Tither self-material or leather belts are used.

Cotton materials have invaded the sports world replacing silks to a great degree.

The sleeveless sports frock with a huge bandana, square-tied about the shoulders is of interest.

Hats and parasols of natural straw and pongee coloring are well liked.

MANY TOURISTS COMING

Sports at Lum Park, Stark Bros. Circus, and K. of C. Outing at Birchdale Scheduled

A Moose celebration at Lum Park all day and evening, a circus on the old paper mill grounds, under the auspices of the local American Legion, a big K. of C. outing and sports day at Birchdale, afternoon and evening, numerous community picnics in the country and the greatest display of fireworks in the history of the city are only a few of the entertainment features for Brainerd and the county over the Fourth of July.

Unquestionably the day will be celebrated in a style heretofore unequalled. With favorable weather predominating thousands of Brainerd and county people are expected to attend the various celebrations. The influx of tourists from other parts of the state, and other states over the three day holiday in the Brainerd lake region started this morning. Early reports were to the effect that over 100,000 holiday seekers from the Twin Cities were planning to spend their holidays outside the city and that many of them were heading towards Brainerd.

Organizations working for weeks past are now "all set" to take care of the large crowds expected at the celebrations.

Water and land sports will lead all at the Moose celebration at Lum Park afternoon and evening. The sports will continue until 6 p. m. and will include a fancy diving and board work exhibition by Merdiva, Dixie Thompson, world's foremost lady underwater worker. During the evening Merdiva will give another water exhibition to be followed by a band concert and grand ball at the dancing pavilion and the greatest display of fireworks to be seen in the north country.

It will include Captain Bill's big black Nubian lions, "Bozo" the sacred baboon from Egypt, the night monkeys, thoroughbred dancing horses and trained shetland ponies, Roxanna, the world's greatest headspinner, and an army of clowns.

Races, water sports, a big picnic, music and dancing are on the bill for the Knights of Columbus celebration at Birchdale over Independence Day.

TESTING COWS FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Has Become General Practice of Dairymen Throughout United States

TUBERCULAR TESTING FREE

Advisable to Have All Cows of County Freed From Disease Entirely

(By E. G. Roth, County Agricultural Agent)

The testing of cows for tuberculosis has become a general practice of the dairymen throughout the United States. The amount of tuberculosis among cattle in Crow Wing county has been found to be very low, averaging less than one-half of one percent. It would therefore seem advisable to prevent this percentage from increasing to have all the cattle of the county tested and freed from tuberculosis entirely.

The United States government together with the State of Minnesota has employed veterinarians to take care of the testing of Crow Wing and Aitkin counties. This tubercular testing is done free of charge to the owner of cattle and should any of this cattle react, that is found having tuberculosis, will be indemnified by the state.

It is necessary in order to comply with a law to secure an application blank for tubercular testing. This may be secured at the county agent's office or by writing to Minnesota Live Stock Sanitary Board. Testing will be started immediately in the counties in which at least ninety percent of the farmers signed up for this work. This is a wonderful opportunity for the farmers to have their cattle tested for tuberculosis free of charge. This opportunity should be grasped at once by all owners of the county. The county agent's office in the court house at Brainerd has a good supply of these applications for testing on hand and he is willing to give these or mail them to any farmers of the county.

It is estimated that a large percentage of the tuberculosis in children is caused by drinking the milk of tubercular cows. Practically every city and village has passed a milk ordinance requiring farmers to have their cows tested before selling milk in town. Every farmer should protect himself and his family with equal caution. Why endanger the life and health of the loved ones on the farm when science has produced a simple test with certainty the state and government has made it free to the farmer even paying him for cows that have been found to have tuberculosis.

Advisable to Have All Cows of County Freed From Disease Entirely

(By E. G. Roth, County Agricultural Agent)

The testing of cows for tuberculosis has become a general practice of the dairymen throughout the United States. The amount of tuberculosis among cattle in Crow Wing county has been found to be very low, averaging less than one-half of one percent. It would therefore seem advisable to prevent this percentage from increasing to have all the cattle of the county tested and freed from tuberculosis entirely.

The United States government together with the State of Minnesota has employed veterinarians to take care of the testing of Crow Wing and Aitkin counties. This tubercular testing is done free of charge to the owner of cattle and should any of this cattle react, that is found having tuberculosis, will be indemnified by the state.

It is necessary in order to comply with a law to secure an application blank for tubercular testing. This may be secured at the county agent's office or by writing to Minnesota Live Stock Sanitary Board. Testing will be started immediately in the counties in which at least ninety percent of the farmers signed up for this work. This is a wonderful opportunity for the farmers to have their cattle tested for tuberculosis free of charge. This opportunity should be grasped at once by all owners of the county. The county agent's office in the court house at Brainerd has a good supply of these applications for testing on hand and he is willing to give these or mail them to any farmers of the county.

It is estimated that a large percentage of the tuberculosis in children is caused by drinking the milk of tubercular cows. Practically every city and village has passed a milk ordinance requiring farmers to have their cows tested before selling milk in town. Every farmer should protect himself and his family with equal caution. Why endanger the life and health of the loved ones on the farm when science has produced a simple test with certainty the cow? The state and government has made it free to the farmer even paying him for cows that have been found to have tuberculosis.

HULK OF PLANE DISMANTLED FOR SHIPMENT TO PARIS

By RALPH HEINZEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Ver-Sur-Mer, France, July 2. — The monoplane America, above this high-water mark of the waves that battered her yesterday, safe below the skies that had buffeted her for 40 hours previously, was being roughly but expertly diagnosed and dissected on the beach here today.

The three engines that had kept her in the air had been taken out for overhauling; the hulk of the plane herself was being dismantled probably for shipment to Paris.

No final verdict had been reached on the extent of her injuries. Commander Byrd had hoped they were not vital. But it was plain not only to him but to laymen who saw her that the plane was in bad shape. Humanly resilient in contrast to the prostration of their giant plane, Commander Byrd and his companions had recovered sufficiently from their ordeal to tell the story of their flight before their departure for Caen and, eventually, Paris.

In an interview he gave the United Press, Commander Byrd reviewed his argosy from start to finish, and ended up with a prediction regarding the future of trans-Atlantic flying.

"Fog, rain and a deranged compass were our main troubles," he said. "We encountered some wind going up the New England coast. Then we ran into a wall of fog that enveloped the Newfoundland coast and prevented our hopping off for the sea from above St. John's, as we had planned. But luckily we located ourselves and were able to start out over the Atlantic knowing where we were."

"Then towards the end, our troublesome compass went entirely wrong. We were flying around in large circles."

"Again and again we set our course for Paris, but all our efforts resulted only in carrying us into low-lying rain clouds. For hours we searched for a landing place, all the while watching carefully our gas consumption."

"It was too dark to tell the nature of the ground below us at any time and I knew that bringing the plane down on rough ground without being able to see it would result in tragedy."

"When we finally landed, we came down because we had to. We knew damned well we had not another drop of gas."

"As regards trans-Atlantic passenger service, the time for them has not yet come."

"Many more experimental flights will have to be made before anyone can talk seriously of them. The work already done will have to be carried on."

BYRD AND HIS CREW ARRIVE AT PARIS TODAY

ator's progress. Taxicab drivers refused to accept passengers, saying that they wanted to see the procession.

Flag vendors quickly found a supply of miniature American flags when they saw that the crowds were turning out by thousands to greet the airmen.

They sold all they could obtain in the station and hotel area, whose shops were raided for supplies.

After their bath and massage, the aviators were lunching as guests of the Inter-Allied Club.

Gurnee Vunn, 8-year-old grandson of Dodman Wanamaker, was Byrd's principal welcome at the hotel.

"In behalf of my grandmother, I welcome you to Paris and congratulate you on your great flight," he said.

Byrd, after his bath, donned the uniform of a naval aviation commander, which he had brought from America.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, a guest at the Inter-Allied luncheon, said to the United Press:

"Byrd had hard luck, but he succeeded in his flight as soon as he crossed the ocean, regardless of where he landed."

"The English Channel is the most treacherous air passage in the world," Bleriot, the French aviation pioneer, said.

Bleriot introduced Chamberlin to former Air Minister Laurent Eynaud, who said to Chamberlin:

"I propose you that a year from today France will have wrested back every aviation record."

Whitehouse announced at the luncheon that President Doumergue would receive Byrd at 5 P. M.

Byrd met Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine on the steps of the Inter-Allied Club.

"You met about everything there was to meet," said Chamberlin.

"Yes," Byrd agreed. "We're lucky to be here."

Chamberlin and Acosta, old friends, who flew together for 51 hours to set a world's endurance record several months ago, greeted each other heartily.

"I wouldn't have missed it for anything in the world," said Acosta.

Acosta and Balchen were dressed at the luncheon in newly purchased sack suits, but they had no hats.

Noville, like Byrd, was in the white dress summer naval uniform.

Adelaide's Teashop Became Famous

By AD SCHUSTER

(Copyright.)

POSSIBLY this story dates back to Adelaide's great-grandfather who sailed the seas when the waves tossed high and a mariner took heavy chances against a safe return. Had she been a man she would have sought adventure, Adelaide told herself, and, being a woman, she did the next best thing and read brave tales out of books. There came a time when she was left alone with a small sum of money and the necessity of providing for the future. She thought of all of the possibilities and then decided upon a tea room and restaurant.

This was to be no ordinary tea room. Adelaide was determined to make it unlike any in the world. She would go to the coast, to some small port on the Atlantic where fishing fleets have come and gone for many years and there set up in a shabby shack a retreat and meeting place for adventurers.

Adelaide thought of hale men from the seven seas, men wearing ear-rings and stroking ferocious mustaches. She pictured booted men with red scarfs at their necks and wild yarns on their lips and their delight when they spied in her a kindred spirit. So she set up her shop and with a sign "Adventurers All," invited the roving spirits of romance, the roaring, roistering lads of the sea, to have a cup of tea.

The old town of Boulder Cove rubbed its eyes in amazement at the enterprise and assumption of this young woman. Was it possible she thought she could make tea better than the good wives or that the husbands and sons were not getting enough to eat at home? Those who visited the place for curiosity left wondering at the idea anyone could find adventure in tea and cake and felt sorry for a girl who had staked her fortunes in so dubious a venture. Despairing of winning over the home trade or of seeing a real adventurer come into port, Adelaide discovered that if she were to keep the shop open she must attract a goodly proportion of the tourists who motored through the town. Most of them stopped, talked to the old-timers, took photographs and moved on.

These old-timers, particularly Tom Crown, were of the kind she had pictured foregathered in her place. Adelaide, in love with the town, totaled her books and decided she had not long to remain.

"You," she said to Rodney Meek, Boulder Cove's merchant and postmaster, "are the only steady customer of the place. If I don't get more I'll have to quit."

"Perhaps," the young man answered, "perhaps things will pick up. It takes the folks here a long time to get accustomed to anything new. It would be too bad to have you go."

The very next day Tom Crown called into the inn, took a place at a table near a window and, in his becoming voice, started a yarn of the sea. Adelaide smiled, for this was as she had dreamed.

"Yessir," said Tom to Rodney, "that squall came up so sudden it blew the sails to ribbons afore we could haul them down. We was as helpless as an eggshell in Niagara and there came a big wave . . ."

Adelaide could not catch the rest for she had to welcome a party of tourists who sat at a table adjoining the old sailor and gave him all their attention. He went on with his story of the bark Nancy Imogene which was lifted on a big wave and deposited in the very center of an island and as he talked he pounded the table. The tale was impressive and no one dared dispute. Here, at least, was one successful noon hour. Maybe Rodney was right and business would pick up.

After that Tom Crown came back many times and with him a train of tourists. Always he had a tale of a kind that sent the visitors away talking of the picturesque old man who held forth in the inn of "Adventurers All." Then some one wrote a story about him for the city papers and Adelaide's teashop became famous.

"You told me, Rodney, that things would change. I wonder how you knew."

"They just had to change," he answered, "because, you know, it would not be right for you to go away. We want you here, Adelaide, the town does and, and I do, too."

He read the answer in her eyes and afterward when he met Tom Crown on the street told him the news.

"Don't say?" the old sailor boomed. "Well, I sorter expected it. I'll tell you what I'll give you for a wedding present. You don't have to pay me to visit that shop any more. I'll go for nothing!"

Fallen Star

"Why is it that you have broken off your engagement, Alice?" asked her fair friend.

"Oh, my dear! He told me he was connected with the movies, and the very next day, I saw him driving a furniture van."

The Fine Points

"Never borrow any money from that man. He is a shylock. In winter he takes 50 per cent interest and in the summer 60 per cent."

"Why the 60?"

"Because the days are longer in summer."—Pete Mele, Paris.

BYRD AND HIS CREW ARRIVE AT PARIS TODAY

ator's progress. Taxicab drivers refused to accept passengers, saying that they wanted to see the procession.

Flag vendors quickly found a supply of miniature American flags when they saw that the crowds were turning out by thousands to greet the airmen.

They sold all they could obtain in the station and hotel area, whose shops were raided for supplies.

After their bath and massage, the aviators were lunching as guests of the Inter-Allied Club.

Gurnee Vunn, 8-year-old grandson of Dodman Wanamaker, was Byrd's principal welcomer at the hotel.

"In behalf of my grandmother, I welcome you to Paris and congratulate you on your great flight," he said.

Byrd, after his bath, donned the uniform of a naval aviation commander, which he had brought from America.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, a guest at the Inter-Allied luncheon, said to the United Press:

"Byrd had hard luck, but he succeeded in his flight as soon as he crossed the ocean, regardless of where he landed."

"The English Channel is the most treacherous air passage in the world," Bleriot, the French aviation pioneer, said.

Bleriot introduced Chamberlin to former Air Minister Laurent Eynac, who said to Chamberlin:

"I propose you that a year from today France will have wrested back every aviation record."

Whitehouse announced at the luncheon that President Doumergue would receive Byrd at 5 P. M.

Byrd met Chamberlin and Charles A. Levine on the steps of the Inter-Allied Club.

"You met about everything there was to meet," said Chamberlin.

"Yes," Byrd agreed. "We're lucky to be here."

Chamberlin and Acosta, old friends, who flew together for 51 hours to set a world's endurance record several months ago, greeted each other heartily.

"I wouldn't have missed it for anything in the world," said Acosta. Acosta and Balchen were dressed at the luncheon in newly purchased sack suits, but they had no hats.

Noville, like Byrd, was in the white dress summer naval uniform.

Adelaide's Teashop Became Famous

By AD SCHUSTER

(Copyright.)

POSSIBLY this story dates back to Adelaide's great-grandfather who sailed the seas when the waves tossed high and a mariner took heavy chances against a safe return. Had she been a man she would have sought adventure. Adelaide told herself, and, being a woman, she did the next best thing and read brave tales out of books. There came a time when she was left alone with a small sum of money and the necessity of providing for the future. She thought of all of the possibilities and then decided upon a tea room and restaurant.

This was to be no ordinary tea room. Adelaide was determined to make it unlike any in the world. She would go to the coast, to some small port on the Atlantic where fishing fleets have come and gone for many years and there set up in a shabby-sided shack a retreat and meeting place for adventurers.

Adelaide thought of hale men from the seven seas, men wearing ear-rings and stroking ferocious mustaches. She pictured booted men with red scarfs at their necks and wild yarns on their lips and their delight when they spied in her a kindred spirit. So she set up her shop and with a sign "Adventurers All," invited the roving spirits of romance, the roaring, roistering lads of the sea, to have a cup of tea.

The old town of Boulder Cove rubbed its eyes in amazement at the enterprise and assumption of this young woman. Was it possible she thought she could make tea better than the good wives or that the husbands and sons were not getting enough to eat at home? Those who visited the place for curiosity left wondering at the idea anyone could find adventure in tea and cake and felt sorry for a girl who had staked her fortunes in so dubious a venture. Despairing of winning over the home frads or of seeing a real adventurer come into port, Adelaide discovered that if she were to keep the shop open she must attract a goodly proportion of the tourists who motored through the town. Most of them stopped, talked to the old-timers, took photographs and moved on.

These old-timers, particularly Tom Crown, were of the kind she had pictured foregathered in her place. Adelaide, in love with the town, totaled her books and decided she had not long to remain.

"You," she said to Rodney Meek, Boulder Cove's merchant and postmaster, "are the only steady customer of the place. If I don't get more I'll have to quit."

"Perhaps," the young man answered, "perhaps things will pick up. It takes the folks here a long time to get accustomed to anything new. It would be too bad to have you go."

The very next day Tom Crown called into the inn, took a place at a table near a window and, in his becoming voice, started a yarn of the sea. Adelaide smiled, for this was as she had dreamed.

"Yessir," said Tom to Rodney, "that squall came up so sudden it blew the sails to ribbons afore we could haul them down. We was as helpless as an eggshell in Niagara and there came a big wave . . ."

Adelaide could not catch the rest for she had to welcome a party of tourists who sat at a table adjoining the old sailor and gave him all their attention. He went on with his story of the bark Nancy Imogene which was lifted on a big wave and deposited in the very center of an island and as he talked he pounded the table. The tale was impressive and no one dared dispute. Here, at least, was one successful noon hour. Maybe Rodney was right and business would pick up.

After that Tom Crown came back many times and with him a train of tourists. Always he had a tale of a kind that sent the visitors away talking of the picturesque old man who held forth in the Inn of "Adventurers All." Then some one wrote a story about him for the city papers and Adelaide's teashop became famous.

"You told me, Rodney, that things would change. I wonder how you knew."

"They just had to change," he answered, "because, you know, it would not be right for you to go away. We want you here, Adelaide, the town does and, I do, too."

He read the answer in her eyes and afterward when he met Tom Crown on the street told him the news.

"Don't say?" the old sailor boomed. "Well, I sorter expected it. I'll tell you what I'll give you for a wedding present. You don't have to pay me to visit that shop any more. I'll go for nothing!"

Fallen Star

"Why is it that you have broken off your engagement, Alice?" asked her fair friend.

"Oh, my dear! He told me he was connected with the movies, and the very next day, I saw him driving a furniture van."

"Why the 60?"
